

Well-attended general meeting of the CMIG

At the end of September 2019, 25 participants – arrived with 13 aircraft – met in Bremen for the first annual general meeting of the Citation Mustang Interest Group after the foundation of the association in 2018. First there was a reception with a visit of the aircraft maintenance facility at Atlas Air Service, then the annual meeting of the members was hosted by the Lufthansa Airline Academy in Bremen.

Hans-Alfred Kaut, spokesman for CMIG, thanked the 10 founding members and his board colleagues for the perfect support in the founding year, and then reported on the pleasing development of the association. The association now has nearly 30 members, who together operate more than 40 aircrafts, including 36 Citation Mustangs.

The Board of Management and the Treasurer were unanimously exonerated with the abstention of those affected. Since Hans-Alfred Kaut had already declared at the founding meeting that he would only be available for one year for the speaker's mandate, Dr. Till Werner became the speaker and Dr. Klaus Lesker was unanimously appointed as his deputy.

A lively and wide-ranging exchange of experiences and interesting lectures on the topics of accident investigation by Axel Rokohl from the Federal Office for Air Accident Investigation, OM-NCC and the use of ForeFlight in Europe followed.
